Dedication of New St. John's Church Friday Morning

New Edition to be Dedicated by Bishop Manning Followed by Installation of Rev. W. P. Kemper as Rector—Dinner for Bishop Manning Thursday Evening.

On Friday morning, October 21, the new St. John's Episcopal Church on Albany avenue will be dedicated by the Right Rev. William T. Manning, D. D., D. C. L., Bishop of New York, at a service beginning at 10:30 o'clock. While fully appreciating and recognizing the church's debt to those faithful clergymen who have served the church and the community in the past and to those faithful members who made up former congregations, the present congregation of St. John's Church is hoping to be even better able to serve Christ in Kingston in this new edifice so beautifully located, and therefore most cordially invite the people of Kingston to join with them in the dedicatory services on Friday morning which will be followed by the formal installation as rector of the Rev. William Poyntell Kemper, a man who has already endeared himself to both the parish and community by his very Christian and human ministrations in the city since his coming here last spring.

Before its demolition and when it stood on the former site on Wall street, St. John's Church was the oldest church edifice in the city, having been consecrated by Bishop Onderdonk November 24, 1835. The first rector of St. John's Church was the Rev. George Sherwood, 1832-35. Subsequent rectors have been: Rev. John Downey, 1835-39; Rev. Henry M. Davis, 1839-40; Rev. William A. Curtis, 1841-44; Rev. George Sayres, 1844-49; Rev. George Waters, 1849-60; Rev. George McAllister, 1860-73; Rev. Walter DeLafield, 1873-74; Rev. Clarence Buell, in charge, 1874-75; Rev. C. V. Camp, 1875-1885; Rev. Lewis Watson, 1886-1895; Rev. William W. Page, in charge, 1895-96; Rev. John Henry Watson, 1896-97; Rev. Edgar Gardner Murphy, 1897-98; Rev. Octavius Applegate, 1898-99; Rev. Henry Messier, 1909-12; Rev. Charles F. Kennedy, 1912-16; Rev. J. L. Blair Larned, 1916-18; Rev. Leighton Williams, D. D., 1918-21; Rev. Delmer W. Clarke, in charge, 1922; Rev. Edward M. H. Camp, 1922-26; Rev. Dr. Watkins in charge 1926-27. Mr. Kemper's service in St. John's Church began May 1927.

Many New Memorials.

There were many memorial gifts to the old church which have found their fitting place in the new edifice, and many new memorials already have been given for the new church which will be formally presented in the future. The new pulpit is a beautiful memorial from the congregation to the memory of the late Rev. Edward M. H. Knapp, to whose untiring efforts very largely the new church is the larger memorial. The altars for the memorial windows, already in place, are also a memorial. With a much larger chancel and organ loft the church seems to have taken on a considerable added space and presents an added churchiness of architecture with the uncovered beams showing the Gothic roof. Its peacefulness is further added by the light tone of the stone walls in combination with the oak woodwork. The church now has a center aisle.

Special mention should be made of the enhanced beauty of the music in the new church under the direction of Organist Robert Williams, the sweet boy voices, together with the rich tones of the men's voices and the organ all sounding much more effectively than in the old church.

Other memorials that will probably soon find their proper place in the new church will be Bishop's chairs, double sedalia for the chancel, litany stool and four silver offering plates.

Dinner for Bishop Manning.

On Thursday evening of this week at 6:30 o'clock, the Men's Club of St. John's Church will give a dinner in honor of Bishop Manning and it is hoped Suffragan Bishop Shipman also, in the parish house in the rear of the church. Clergy from all near-by parishes have been specially invited to this dinner and already many of them have accepted the invitation. The dinner will be informal in character and the rector and vestry hope to see practically all of the men of the parish present. C. V. A. Decker is chairman of the dinner committee and the serving of the dinner will be in charge of the Parish Aid Society, Mrs. Williams Carter, president. Mrs. Spencer L. Dawes will have charge of the dining room while Mrs. George DuBois will supervise the serving from the new kitchen. Chairman of other committees in connection with the dinner and the service on Friday morning—for the visiting clergy are invited to remain as guests of St. John's people Thursday night, will be:

Entertainment committee, John D. Schoonmaker, Jr., and Charles H. De Verno, Jr.

Arrangements, George Newton Food and Walter S. Babcock.

Motor corps, Charles A. Lasher and Henry J. Wood.

Invitations, Harold F. King and Miss Beulah Smith.

Publicity, Mrs. Clara Norton Reed, church services, Thomas A. Horner.

Dinner, C. V. A. Decker.

Demonstrate Voting Machines

Board of Elections to Hold Public Demonstrations of Voting Machines at Court House on Wednesday and Thursday Evenings.

Mark Sampson, clerk of the board of elections, has announced that the board will hold two public demonstrations this week of the voting machines to be used in the city of Kingston on election day. These meetings will be held Wednesday and Thursday evenings of this week at 8 o'clock in the supervisors' rooms at the court house.

As this is the first year that voting machines have been used in the city it is hoped that every voter will take this opportunity of familiarizing himself or herself with the operation of the machines before election day. These meetings held under the supervision of the board of elections will be arranged to assist the voting public, are open to all candidates, party workers and election officials who may have a special interest in the voting machines.

Mr. Sampson states that in so far as the vote is concerned the operation of the machines is extremely simple and no trouble is anticipated. At the same time the board is doing all it can to familiarize the voters with the machines and assist them as far as possible in the intelligent use of them.

The board will have present at the meetings both Wednesday evening and Thursday evening Rev. Gustaverson, a representative of the voting machine company, who in addition to demonstrating the machines will give a practical talk on what the machines are capable of doing and how they have worked in other localities.

As the demonstrations this week will undoubtedly be the last before election where a representative of the voting machine company will be present to demonstrate and answer any questions relative to the voting machine, it is desired that as many as possible avail themselves of the opportunity to be present on one of the evenings.

Election officials who have not as yet received instructions on the voting machines may present themselves on either of the nights and on qualifying will receive their certificate.

The board will endeavor to make these meetings as interesting as possible and all who attend will have a better and clearer understanding of the voting machine and its working.

Two Prisoners Plead Not Guilty

Billy King, negro, who was indicted by the grand jury Monday on a charge of robbery, first degree, was arraigned before Judge Hasbrouck in the Supreme court and entered a plea of not guilty. She was returned to jail and her case transferred to the county court. It is alleged she held up and robbed Hubert Finley in the lower section of the city on the evening of October 8 and with the aid of another woman robbed Finley of $25. Thomas F. Conaghan appears for defendant.

Earl Walker, charged with assault, second degree, for the cutting of Jefferson Braddock at Lloyd on October 2, at first entered a plea of guilty and then said he had counsel who was not present. In order to allow him to appear by counsel a plea of not guilty was entered and the case was held open so that Walker might change his plea at a later date if he so desired when his counsel was present.

The six sealed indictments were transferred by order of Judge Hasbrouck to county court for disposition.

Remus to File Insanity Plea

Cincinnati, Oct. 18 (AP).—George Remus, former bootleg king, under indictment for first degree murder of his wife, Mrs. Imogene Remus, will be tried before a jury on the question of his sanity October 31. Judge Chester Shook of the criminal division of common pleas court made this order yesterday after Remus announced he would file an insanity plea today supplemental to the not guilty plea he entered last Saturday when arraigned.

Should the jury hearing find him to have been insane at the time he shot his wife, he will be committed to the Lima State Hospital, but if the verdict holds him to have been sane he will go to trial on the murder charge on November 14, the date originally set.

Frisco's Store Robbed

It was reported to the police this morning that Frisco's store at No. 61 Hasbrouck avenue was broken into during the night and a few articles stolen.

Monday morning, not only will the visiting clergy be present, but all of the local clergy have been invited to be present in a body. Directly following the dedicatory of the church by Bishop Manning, the Rev. William Poyntell Kemper will be instituted rector, after which there will be a celebration of Holy Communion.

Asleep, He Said, When He Hit Car

James McCordie of Chapel Street, Arrested for Driving a Car While Intoxicated, Claims He Fell Asleep at Wheel—Other Police Court Cases.

"I am willing to plead guilty to being asleep when I struck the other automobile," said James McCordie, 48 years old, of No. 34 Chapel street, when arraigned before Judge Shufeldt in police court this morning charged with driving a car while intoxicated late Monday afternoon.

McCordie's arrest followed his driving his car into the parked automobile owned by John D. Schoonmaker which was parked in front of No. 127 Foxhall avenue, the residence of the chauffeur, John A. Weber. Both cars were damaged by the force of the impact and McCordie received a cut on the head.

According to McCordie's story to Judge Shufeldt this morning he had been up for two nights and had fallen asleep at the driving wheel at the time he drove his car into the Schoonmaker car.

"I had been drinking a little," said McCordie, "but I was not drunk."

Judge Shufeldt informed McCordie that he was charged with driving his car while intoxicated, not with being asleep at the wheel, and after some discussion McCordie entered a plea of not guilty and the hearing was set down for October 26.

Fanning Hit Standard.

Frank J. Fanning of No. 216 Catherine street, was arrested by Officer Schick on Monday for driving a car on Broadway without having the necessary license papers. Fanning struck the traffic standard at Broadway and Railroad avenue and moved it out of place and shortly afterward the blinker was struck by another car and badly damaged.

At first Fanning was going to plead guilty, but as there was some question as to who should pay for the damage to the blinker he entered a plea of not guilty and the hearing was adjourned to Thursday.

In reply to questions Fanning informed Judge Shufeldt that he had had the car for about six months but had been negligent in obtaining his license papers. He said he used to have a license but had allowed it to expire. His damaged car was placed in the police garage after the collision with the traffic standard.

Nard Arrested.

Ralph R. Nard of East Kingston was arrested by Chief of Police Wood following a collision with the Ford car of Henry Ronnenberg of Albany avenue extending to Albany and Flatbush avenues, in which Miss Ethel O'Leary of Albany avenue extension was cut on the head.

Nard was charged with operating a car without the necessary license papers and when arraigned before Judge Shufeldt pleaded guilty to the charge.

Nard informed the court that he had owned the car since January but had not taken out his license papers. He said he had a license two years ago but had never renewed it.

Judge Shufeldt fined Nard $10 and warned him not to operate the car until he had obtained the necessary papers.

Horbecinski Case Adjourned.

The hearing in the case of Frank Horbecinski, 16 years old, arrested October 8 by the police who charged him with failing to report an accident, and also without having the necessary license papers, was adjourned until November 1, when Sergeant Simpson informed Judge Shufeldt that the four-year-old girl, Joan Kenney, was still in a critical condition at the Kingston City Hospital. The little girl was struck by the car alleged to be driven by the boy while on Third avenue and sustained a fracture of the skull. She is at the Kingston City Hospital.

Other Cases.

Anthony DeCicco of 744 1/2 Broadway, arrested on a warrant sworn out by Isaac Beatty of 70 Chambers street, charging Anthony with assault in the third degree, was adjourned to October 25. DeCicco pleaded not guilty.

Helen Richter, a young girl arrested on a warrant charging escape, will be held awaiting the arrival of the authorities from Bedford.

Joseph Wilke was arrested charged with public intoxication on Railroad avenue on Monday. He was fined $5 in police court.

N. Y. STATE CIRCULATION MANAGERS' ASSOCIATION

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Oct. 18 (AP).—The annual convention of the New York State Circulation Managers' Association opened here today. Topics of interest to those in charge of the circulation departments of newspapers throughout the state will be discussed.

J. Avey of the Observer-Dispatch, Utica, will speak this afternoon on "Results of high powered efforts, good, bad, or indifferent." Frank Roberts of the Times-Union, Rochester, will speak on "Best methods to increase street sales."

Scott Sleight Injured.

Monday evening while Scott Sleight, assistant janitor at the Municipal Building on East O'Reilly street, was riding his bicycle on Foxhall avenue, near Derrenbacher street, he was struck by an automobile driven by Fred Moot of R. F. D. No. 4, and badly shaken up and bruised. His bicycle was wrecked.

Pick Jury for Trial of Fall and Sinclair

Jury Consists of Two Women, One Married and One Single, and Ten Men, Eight Married—Roberts Declares Government Will Prove a Conspiracy.

Washington, Oct. 18 (AP).—After two days of painstaking examination, a jury was picked in the box today to decide whether Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the interior, and Harry F. Sinclair, oil promoter, conspired criminally in disposing of the lease of the navy's great Teapot Dome oil reserve.

The jury was completed soon after noon, after a veritable procession of takersmen in and out of the box. Although when court opened only one juror's seat remained vacant, challenge after challenge from both government and defense removed those to whom the lawyers objected.

The jury which will hear the celebrated case consists of two women, one married and one single, and ten men, eight married and two single. The jurors all live in the District of Columbia and are as follows:

Mrs. Annetta T. Bailey, clerk, age not elicited.

Miss Bernice Heaton, a telephone instructor, age not elicited.

Gardner P. Greenfield, 26, single, cable splicer.

William H. Gucher, 39, married, a tire vulcanizer.

Conrad J. Herzog, 56, married, sales manager.

Robert C. Flora, 39, married, sales agent.

John P. Kern, 32, married, salesman.

Bradner W. Holes, 34, married, department store floor manager.

John P. Constanter, 61, married, tailor.

Norman L. Glascock, 47, married, clerk.

Edward J. Kidwell, Jr., 31, single, leather worker.

Charles Holt, 63, married, retired brick mason.

Woman Removed.

One of the first jurors to be removed from the box today was Mrs. Pauline Levitt, chosen yesterday with the two other women as tentative jurors. Her successor in the box, Jesse H. Foster, a negro veteran, remained there only a short time, however, being thrown off by a challenge.

Neither side exhausted all of its peremptory challenges before announcing satisfaction with the jury. The government used up eight of its ten and the defense six of its allotment of ten.

With the swearing of the jury, Owen J. Roberts, of special oil counsel, made the opening statement for the prosecution, saying the government would prove a conspiracy between Fall and Sinclair for the leasing of the Teapot Dome naval oil reserve in Wyoming.

Reviewing the history of the case, the government lawyer emphasized the secrecy attending the negotiations between the former interior secretary and the wealthy oil man. He said the lease was drafted in the office of Sinclair's lawyer and not in the interior department and that Fall signed it on the ground that a lease was necessary to protect the reserve from drainage when experts of the department had told him there was no danger of drainage.

Colorado Coal Fields Strike

Strike of 4,000 Miners at LaFayette Threatens to Tie Up Colorado Coal Fields—Fear I. W. W. Representatives.

Denver, Oct. 18 (AP).—A strike of thousands of miners affiliated with the Industrial Workers of the World today threatened to tie up Colorado coal fields.

Officials of the State Industrial Commission said they feared the I. W. W. representatives might make the strike generally effective through intimidation. Extra deputies were sworn in to protect United Mine Workers and others who wished to continue work. The union miners are in the minority in virtually all fields.

The strike movement spread from southern to northern Colorado last night when 4,000 miners at LaFayette voted to lay down their picks today.

In the southern fields citizens' committees joined state and county officials to prevent the walkout. Ulimatums were posted at Walsenburg and Aguilar ordering all I. W. W. members to leave. The Walsenburg I. W. W. headquarters, which was raided by citizens Saturday night when all records and literature were burned, remained deserted as did the Aguilar branch. However, reports of picketing came from these camps.

Meetings at several of the larger camps last night were conducted by I. W. W. representatives who advocated a "100 per cent walkout" in protest to the present wage scale. Miners at Aguilar and Walsenburg, who accepted the strike order, decided to use pickets but urged a peaceful walkout.

Award for Mrs. Aiken.

Referee John J. Burns of the state industrial commission, held a compensation hearing at the court house Monday and awarded Mrs. Carrie Aiken of 75 Hasbrouck avenue, widow of the late James Aiken, the sum of $28.55 to be paid weekly and $200 for funeral expenses. Mr. Aiken was burned to death in the oakum fire at the R. Lenahan Co. boat yard a short time ago.

Fishermen Lose Suit for Damages

Verdict of No Cause of Action Given Against Highland Fishermen Who Claimed Their Nets Were Damaged—Other Cases in Supreme Court.

A verdict of no cause of action was returned Monday afternoon by the jury which heard the evidence in the actions brought by Richard Bilson and James J. Relyea of Highland against the Standard Transportation Corporation for alleged damages to their fishing nets in the Hudson river off Highland. The plaintiffs alleged that a power boat with a large net ran over their nets which were set in the river for shad and that the nets were damaged. The plaintiffs claimed it was the power large Schenectady which caused the damage while testimony showed the Schenectady was on Lake Erie at the time of the alleged accident but that the tug Security was on the river. The plaintiffs were not positive of the date of the accident and several dates were mentioned. The defendant denied its boats ran over any nets in the river at the times mentioned. John W. Eckert appeared for the defendant and A. W. Lent for the plaintiffs. Right to make motions to set aside the verdict was reserved by plaintiff.

An action brought by Windsor Lake Hotel, Inc., against David Bernstein and Archie Korvinsky, an action to abate a nuisance, was dismissed without costs. Judge William D. Cunningham appeared for plaintiff and Clean B. Murray for the defendants.

Motion in Elmendorf Case.

A motion was made to reinstate the action brought by Harry B. Elmendorf against George W. Ross, an action for alienation of affections, to the calendar after it had been marked over the term. Frank W. Brooks ever the term on the ground that Kathleen Dunham, an important witness, was absent and could not be brought here to testify for defendant. At that time the court ordered affidavits filed and Mr. Brinner asked time to file an answering affidavit. Had time to file an answering affidavit and that he had since learned that Mrs. Dunham was now on her way east and he asked that the case be restored to the calendar. The court allowed the filing of affidavits to that effect. This action was previously tried and a verdict for plaintiff was given but on appeal the trial granted.

Action for Commission.

Testimony was taken in the action brought by Bertha Bleier against Thomas Rice of this city for commission. She alleged she secured a contract for Mr. Rice to draw plans and build a house for Paul Ciesleski on Albany avenue, and Mr. Rice had agreed to give her 5 per cent commission on the entire cost of the house. The answer is a general denial. Vernon Kelder and William A. Kerner, appeared for Judge William D. Cunningham for plaintiff and Frederick Stephen, Jr., and Lloya R. LeFevre for the defendant.

The action was brought to a sudden close when it was testified that the defendant had offered to settle the case for $100 and that the money was in the hands of Henry Klein, attorney. The offer was accepted and the case dismissed.

Auto Damage Case.

An action for personal injuries sustained in an automobile accident at Alhambra on January 10, 1926, was taken up for trial. Mrs. Katherine Brigham, formerly of Kingston, seeks to recover damages from Ivan Ford, alleging that an automobile driven by him ran into her and injured her head, arm and body, while she was walking along the state highway at Alhambra where, she testified, she was then keeping a boarding house. She alleged that she was free from negligence and that she was on the right hand side of the road when the Ford coupe occupied by young Ford, Miss Virginia Oxenham and her mother struck her without warning from the rear, throwing her into the snow and ice at the right of the road.

The answer is a denial of the negligence of the defendant and it alleges that plaintiff was not free from negligence and that through her own acts she was injured. Defendant claims that at the time Mrs. Brigham, another woman and three children were on the road. As the car approached the group Mrs. Brigham attempted to rescue a police dog from the roadway and in so doing was struck. At the time of the accident the children were to the right of the road going west and the two women had been to the left until Mrs. Brigham dashed across the road toward the dog, which had started to cross the road to the right in front of the car which was traveling in the same direction as the people west. William D. Brinner, Jr., and Koscoe V. Elsworth appear for plaintiff and Judge W. D. Cunningham for the defendant.

Picture-Stories at The High School

A special presentation of picture-stories of "American Wonderland" is being given this afternoon for the school children at the high school auditorium by Charles E. Buck, under the auspices of the Federated Council of Parent-Teacher Associations. At 8 o'clock this evening there will be another presentation especially for adults. Mr. Buck comes to Kingston highly recommended by college presidents, school superintendents, principals, teachers, clergymen and lodges as a clear, forceful, entertaining speaker, whose pictures are most unusual and beautiful and cannot fail to be educational and helpful to everyone. Mr. and Mrs. Buck and dog pet will exhibit their house-car, in which they have traveled all over the country, on the high school grounds.

Business Building Sold.

The two story brick building containing two stores and living rooms upstairs, at 37 North Front street, has been sold through James F. Sneed of the Kingston Realty Company for the L. & S. Realty Corporation to the Grecco Brothers of Saugerties.

Dr. Meinhardt Moves Office.

Dr. Harry Meinhardt, dentist, who has had an office at 43 Crown street for the past year, has moved his office to his home, No. 85 John street, where he will be glad to see his former as well as new patrons.

Russian Mother For War Orphans

Admiral McCully Marries Mrs. Olga Krundycher—His Seven Adopted Russian War Orphans Now Have a Mother.

Washington, Oct. 18 (AP).—Rear Admiral Newton A. McCully has accomplished the "mission" which took him abroad a month ago and the seven Russian war orphans which he, a bachelor naval officer, adopted in 1920 have been provided with a Russian mother.

Dispatches reaching Washington through diplomatic channels tell of his marriage to Mrs. Olga Krundycher, a Russian, at Reval, Russia, last week. The admiral is 60; his bride, 29.

The news came as a distinct surprise to his naval associates here among whom he has been known as a confirmed bachelor. He went on leave September 12 and told friends wearily that he was going "abroad on a mission."

His seven wards, who now range in age from nine to 19, are at Charleston, S. C., where Admiral McCully is stationed. He is due to return to his post November 12.

The difficulty in which Admiral McCully found himself when he attempted to bring his wards into this country has been avoided for his bride. While they were detained at Ellis Island for a time, the young woman is to receive from the consul at Reval, acting under a State Department order, a passport bearing a non-quota immigrant visa.

Mussolini Bars Speechmaking

Holidays Are Also to Be Abrogated in Italy That the Functioning of the Government and Work of the People Shall Not Be Interrupted.

Rome, Oct. 18 (AP).—Holidays are to be abrogated in Italy. Determined not to follow in the steps of imperial Rome with its many holidays, Premier Mussolini has proposed that speechmaking and public celebrations be abolished and the council of ministers has enacted his proposal into a decree. The decree announces that the move is made so that the functioning of the government and the work of the people shall not be interrupted.

Not only will holidays be abolished but the Fascist state will celebrate two important events in its history on Sundays that fall nearest, so that the wheel of industry may continue to turn for six days a week. The Fascist march on Rome, which occurred October 28, 1922, will be observed on Sunday, October 30. The celebration of the signing of the armistice between Italy and Austria, November 4, 1918, will be held on Sunday, November 6.

QUEEN MARIE ASTONISHED AT ELOPEMENT STORIES.

Sinaia, Rumania, Oct. 18 (AP).—Queen Marie expressed renewed indignation and amazement today at revived reports that the princess had attempted to commit suicide because her elopement had been frustrated.

"I am grieved and astonished beyond measure that my good American friends whom I so lately met could believe such preposterous stories," said the widowed queen today at Pelesah Palace where she is living with Princess Helena, Prince Nicholas and her daughter, the former Queen Elizabeth of Greece.

"As you see, Helena has never left my side since King Ferdinand died," said the queen. "Is it fair or decent or manly for American and European papers to circulate such libels about so soon after our bereavement? I cannot believe that Americans have so little chivalry as to invade the sanctity of grief of a queen and the broken heart of a young daughter with such cruel and false stories."

New Store to Open Friday.

The new Union Store at 280-282 Fair street will open on Friday of this week. It is an added storehouse to a large chain of credit stores with headquarters in New York.

C. E. Conference October 29-30

Annual County and City Union Officers' Conference Will Be Held in Kingston Last of the Month—Attractive Program Arranged.

The ninth annual county and city union officers' conference of the New York State Christian Endeavor Union will be held in the First Dutch Church in this city on October 29 and 30, and an interesting program has been arranged. This is the first time that the conference was ever held in this city. All of the previous meetings have been held in Syracuse.

Among speakers and conference leaders who will be heard at the Kingston meetings are the following: Rev. Daniel A. Poling, D. D., president of the International Society of Christian Endeavor; Clarence C. Hamilton, International Society publication manager; Carlton M. Sherwood, New York, International Society extension secretary; Hon. Frederick A. Wallis, New York, president of the State Union; Rev. William Ralph Hall, Presbyterian Church, U. S. A.; Rev. Walter W. Van Kirk, Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America; John E. Pickens, Buffalo, acting field secretary of the State Union; and the department superintendents of the State Union.

On Sunday, weather permitting, the delegates will visit Ashokan reservoir early in the morning for an outdoor quiet hour meeting of devotion and inspiration. They will return at 10:30 for the regular morning worship with the entertaining church. A banquet is scheduled for Saturday evening. The sessions begin Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. Some of the out-of-town delegations will reach Kingston Friday evening and Acting Field Secretary Pickens will have charge of a social evening in which these groups will participate.

Previous fall conferences of the same group of leaders have been held for eight years in Syracuse. As the 26th annual convention was held in Syracuse in June with 3,700 registered delegates, it was decided that the leaders' conference of the fall should be in another part of the state, and Kingston, through the Ulster County Christian Endeavor Union, extended a hearty invitation to the conference.

PINE HILL.

Pine Hill, Oct. 17.—Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Hill are spending a couple of weeks in New York city and Flushing, L. I., visiting friends.

Earl Persons of New York has moved in rooms in Max Gross's house on Academy street. Mrs. Persons was obliged to leave New York on account of ill health.

Mr. and Mrs. Odell Smith are visiting friends at Gloversville. During Mr. Smith's vacation he will spend a few days in the Adirondacks deer hunting.

The storm last Wednesday night put the electric lights out of commission, tore down several trees and blew the roof from a portion of D. E. Smith's barn. It was the wildest storm this section has known for years.

Eugene Kurean of Jewett, traveling salesman for Everett & Trevellick of Kingston, was at Pine Hill on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Crosby will close their house in this village and spend the winter in Florida, leaving here about February 1.

Paul Clifford left town on Monday for New York city where he has accepted a position in a garage.

The season for shooting birds and squirrels in this section opened on Saturday. While there seems to be a scarcity of birds a large number of squirrels are reported to have been seen in the mountains.

Mr. and Mrs. John France of Kingston spent the week-end in town with Mr. France's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Walton Persons and Mrs. Earl Persons were Kingston shoppers last Friday.

Grant Cure of Schenectady visited his mother over the week-end.

Charles Persons, fire warden at Belle Ayre mountain, saw a large bear near the observatory last Saturday. Bears are reported quite numerous in this section this season.

ST. REMY.

St. Remy, Oct. 17.—This community was shocked to hear of the sudden death of Floyd Lambert of New Salem. He was well known here and had many friends.

Sam Mahaffey and son of Oneonta called at the Haines home on Friday. Miss Serena DeGriff spent a week with her cousin, Mrs. Frank Terpening, at Ulster Park.

Mrs. Harry Ellsworth picked a quart of red raspberries from her vines Saturday.

Mrs. Ralph Gurney has accepted a position teaching in No. 7 school, Kingston.

Mrs. Haines raised a sunflower in her garden, 11 feet tall. The flower was 12 inches in diameter.

Miss Isma Twele celebrated her ninth birthday on Columbus Day.

William and Warren Ferguson of Port Ewen were week-end guests of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Ferguson.

Mr. Daniels of Poughkeepsie called on Harry Krom's Sunday.

"GENTLEMAN JOHNNY" IS A CURIOUS AND PEPPY HISTORY.

Burgoyne, of Saratoga Farms, Portrayed as "A Regular Guy."

Very timely is the publication by Bobbs-Merrill of "Gentleman Johnny Burgoyne" by Francis J. Hudleston, Librarian of the British War Office. From the pen of such an official one would expect a dry-as-dust narrative, as precise as the multiplication table and just about as interesting. But Mr. Hudleston is another kind of Librarian and another kind of Englishman. To those old enough to see the point, he may be described as an accurate and sippant Peter Parley, his writing seasoned with just a dash of the Tales From Town Topics style and taste. The publishers say he is "gay, modern, unconventional and naughty," but concurrence in this verdict is very much a matter of taste. He may be naughty, but he certainly is nice and never nasty. "Gentleman Johnny," say, no more unmoral than his times, polite, considerate, ambitious, frankly relying on "pull" for advancement, is portrayed as the victim of the villain of the story, Lord George Germaine, and the muddling or worse of "that man" forms no small part of the book. To Americans who gained their knowledge of history from school books and had always believed Lord North and King George the villains of play, this will be a revelation.

Mr. Hudleston has had at his command exceptional facilities for research into Burgoyne's story and his Eighteenth Century background in America and England. But no one ever handled the data of thorough study in so debonair a spirit. Sure of his facts, he is never for a moment oppressed by them. He seems to have read everything. He points his moral from the most inconspicuous sources. He adorns his tale with a thousand bon-mots; and those he invents are better even than those he borrows.

As to "Gentleman Johnny," far from being the cruel monster of school books, his soldiers adored him, for he showed them every consideration. Famous for his mischances, he proved himself, when it came down to brass tacks, extraordinarily sensible. Even his fustian and bombast had something lovable about it. He wrote comedies and had at least one hit to his credit. Neither great dramatist nor great soldier, he had courage, courtesy, kindness. He was a gentleman with clean hands in a corrupt age of politics. He was keen on his soldierly job, a splendid fire-eater; and he was also gambler and sensualist, gallant and philandering. He enjoyed life. His men, his friends, his wife, his mistress, all loved him. Horry Walpole laughed at him, but Burke and Fox and Sheridan and Boswell were his friends.

In spite of this, he failed because of the neglect or enmity of Lord Germaine, the strategy of General Schuyler and the bravery of Benedict Arnold and the American soldiers. Had he succeeded, success might not have won the war for England, but his failure expedited the loss of it. The book is an example of what history for popular reading should be but seldom is, a presentation of facts in a delightfully interesting manner. For not only painlessly, but also pleasingly, presenting history it has no superior. Local book stores sell "Gentleman Johnny".

Vote John Dawe For Supervisor

John Dawe, for the past twenty-seven years a valued employee of the Kingston Consolidated Railroad Company, having served at different periods as motorman and conductor of the local trolleys, has been selected by the Republicans of the Fourth ward to represent that ward in the board of supervisors.

Mr. Dawe was born in the Fourth ward fifty-three years ago and has resided there ever since. He is not only one of the best known residents of the Fourth but also one of the best known citizens of Kingston. Coming in contact with many people of the city and county daily, Mr. Dawe through his congeniality has made many friends, who were pleased to hear of the selection made by the Republicans of the Fourth.

HAVING been a property owner for a great many years, Mr. Dawe has not only been very active in advancing the best interests in the ward but in the entire city. Mr. Dawe should make an able representative in the county government.

Mr. Dawe is the father of ten children. No mistake will be made by the voters of the Fourth ward in electing Mr. Dawe by a large majority on Election Day.

Spanish Costumes And Decorations

Junior League Spanish Ball on October 20 is Expected to Eclipse Former Occasions in Color and Action—Where Tickets May Be Purchased.

There will be the gorgeous red and gold trappings of the colorful land of Spain at the Junior League Spanish Ball to be given at the armory on Wednesday evening, October 26. The illuminated columns and heraldic shields will mark the entrances to the boxes, flanking the arena. Brocade curtains will drape the stage upon which will appear the costumed entertainers. There will be row upon row of seats facing the stage and cut by a broad aisle down which will sweep the pageant of dancers, troubadours and all the rest of the sparkling throng. It is expected that this scene of color and action will eclipse anything that has ever been witnessed here.

The benefit which will accrue will be even more splendid than the evening itself, for every dollar will go to bring health to the undernourished babies and children of Kingston. Dress will be informal for all, but the members of the league will wear their Spanish costumes throughout the evening.

Tickets are now on sale at E. Winter's Sons, Valentine Burgevin's, O'Reilly's Broadway News Store, the Connelly Drug, at Broadway and Strand, and may also be purchased from Junior League members.

In these bootleg days it isn't the neighbor's income that is puzzling so much as the how come.

Ruth and Co-Pilot Sail for Lisbon

American Airtaxi Still Wearing Captain's Cap, Sails For Lisbon With Crew of Great Crowd Ringing to Her Fare.

Horta, Island of Paval, Azores, Oct. 18 (AP).—Still wearing Captain's cap as a reminder of her thrilling rescue by the steamship Saredrecht, Ruth Elder sailed today for Lisbon aboard the Portuguese mail boat Lima with the cheers of a great crowd ringing in her ears.

With her sailed George W. Haldeman, her co-pilot on their transatlantic venture in the monoplane American Girl. The two waved a vigorous farewell as the mail boat slipped away from the city bathed in a brilliant moonlight.

The last view of the American airtaxi was the picture of a tiny figure aboard the Lima waving her hands, blowing kisses and made more buoyant than ever by Captain Goos's parting words: "Good luck, Ruth. I'll be waiting for you below."

was the first question she asked as she boarded the ship, and the crowd laughed at the "captain" knowing that the clothes she had on—plus fairs and red sweater included—were all that she had been able to rescue from her plane.

Miss Elder and Captain Haldeman had tea yesterday at the home of her host, George Mackay, the guests including the British consul at Madeira and Horta. The appearance of Miss Elder brought a crowd of eager autograph seekers to the side of her and Haldeman, and the latter said: "I would rather fly three Atlantic than face this."

Miss Elder again was wearing her borrowed Paris gown with perfect ease, apparently unconscious of feminine dread of an ill-fitting gown, the dress being much too large for her. After a quiet dinner in private, the fliers prepared to board the Lima. Miss Elder donned her flying rigout—it had been in the wash—and boarded the Lima at eleven o'clock last night, carrying a lovely bouquet of Horta pink lilies.

The deck of the Lima had been a scene of eager expectation for many hours before and a large crowd had gathered which broke into applause when Miss Elder came up the gangway. The two American fliers were soon surrounded by autograph seekers and complied willingly enough with requests for their signatures.

Flight of Dawn Again Deferred

Contrary Winds Clear Across The Atlantic Again Causes Postponement of Flight of Mrs. Grayson and Companions.

Old Orchard, Me., Oct. 18 (AP).—Adverse weather conditions once again today forced postponement of the European flight of Mrs. Frances Wilson Grayson and her two companions in their amphibian plane, the Dawn. A radio poll of steamships showed contrary winds clear across the Atlantic.

Undismayed by their false start yesterday and forced to return less than a quarter of an hour after the takeoff, the fliers had hoped to get away with first favorable tidal conditions this forenoon.

Mrs. Grayson herself announced the enforced delay today after she, together with Brice Goldsborough, the navigator, and Wilmer Stultz, pilot, had studied the weather reports gathered for them by the Radio Corporation of America through its Chatham, Mass., station.

"It would have been perfect for a flight from the Azores but going east we would have met a resistance of from 15 to 25 miles an hour, practically all the way," she said. "There were no storms, however, and the day over the ocean was bright and sunny."

Weather here was less favorable but it was still barely possible for the flight purposes. The sky was overcast and the wind still east as it was at yesterday's takeoff.

The possibility that the Dawn had established a new weight lifting record remained Mrs. Grayson's chief consolation from the disappointing false start. A rough computation of the gross weight at the take off was 11,500 pounds while the landing weight was approximately 10,000 pounds after the fuel had been dropped.

Carl S. Schory, secretary of the contest committee of the National Aeronautic Society, who sealed the barograph, said he had heard of no performance so good.

Boris Levensky, chief representatives of Igor Sikorsky, has drawn up an affidavit of facts and conditions which has been signed by the Dawn's crew and other observers. The affidavit will be filed with the National Aeronautical Association as a matter of record only, with no particular claim to national or world record for weight lifting per horse power, although the fliers and their friends feel convinced they have made one.

Legion Delegates Return W'dnesday

The local delegates to the American Legion Convention held in Paris last month, will arrive in Kingston over the West Shore railroad on Wednesday evening at 7:15. Kingston Post of the American Legion, accompanied by its drum corps, its Boy Scout troop and its Ladies' Auxiliary, will meet at the Memorial Building at 6:45 p. m., and will stage a parade to the West Shore station, where the delegates, Andrew J. Murphy, Jr., Eugene B. Carey and Delancy DeGraff, will be officially serenaded.

All members of Kingston Post are urged to be present, as a typical Legion parade is promised. After welcoming the returning delegates, they will be escorted to the American Legion Memorial Building where a reception will be held. All members of the Legion and Auxiliary are cordially invited to attend. The delegates will tell of their experiences and travels in Europe. Refreshments will be served free of charge and a merry time is assured to all.

Faces Life Term At Sing Sing

New York, Oct. 18 (AP).—Because he converted a chance to go straight into an opportunity to rob his employer, Andrew Mazarek, 32, was slated for a life term in Sing Sing prison today.

Nine arrests and six convictions were in Mazarek's record when he was arraigned for robbing Thomas Farrell, who had employed him as a butler despite his police record. Mazarek departed with his employer's jewels, valued at $7,500, the third week of his employment. "Some people continue to believe criminals of your type can be reformed," said Judge Adel before pronouncing sentence. "One man who knew of your black record offered you a chance. You repaid his confidence by stealing from him. You are a worthless member of society."

How Far Is Probe Going? Officialdom at Capitol Is Interested in Outcome of Moreland Act Investigation Into 1925 State Census Enumeration. Albany, N. Y., Oct. 18 (AP).—On the eve of the resumption tomorrow of the Moreland act investigation of the administration of the 1925 state census enumeration, officialdom at the Capitol was asking: "How far is it going?"

Already, in only two sessions of the investigation Randal J. Le Boeuf, Jr., the Republican attorney named by Governor Smith as the commissioner to conduct the inquiry, has uncovered alleged irregularities which have resulted in suspension of two employees of the State Civil Service Commission, and has elicited testimony from attaches of the secretary of state's office regarding payrolls which showed substantial compensation paid but no service performed in return. The testimony of these employees was to the effect that Mrs. Florence E. S. Knapp, then secretary of state, had used census moneys for personal expenses, had put her relatives on the payroll without requiring service in return, and had directed an employee of the office to make false attestation to salary supposedly paid to Luella Y. Ninde, but actually collected by Mrs. Knapp.

The return to Albany of Robert Moses, the present secretary of state, was awaited with interest, as it was generally believed at the Capitol that he might take some action in the cases of Mark Stern, first deputy secretary of state, who told of shipping census records to Mrs. Knapp's Syracuse address, and Anna Little, who testified to making false attestation regarding salary payments.

Tax Cut Not Over 250 Millions

Treasury Officials Estimate Tax Reduction Can Not Safely Exceed $250,000,000—Income From Back Taxes Will Grow Less.

Washington, Oct. 18 (AP).—After studying figures on the prospective surplus from the current fiscal year, treasury officials estimated today that tax reduction could not safely exceed $250,000,000.

The controlling factor for tax curtailment in 1929, a high treasury official said, would be the 1928 surplus. He estimated this at between $550,000,000 and $600,000,000 but pointed out that it would be due to such large non-recurring items as $170,000,000 from payments of railroad loans and approximately $300,000,000 from back taxes, $60,000,000 from farm loan bonds, and $27,000,000 from war finance. From current revenue, the officials do not believe the surplus will be more than $250,000,000.

Income from back taxes, officials declared, will grow less during each of the next few years, although they are expected to yield almost as much this year as last.

The board of tax appeals now has before it cases involving more than $500,000,000 in taxes and it is estimated the government will receive sixty per cent. After a year or two, officials believe a normal income of around $150,000,000 can be counted on from back taxes.

FAMOUS SOLOISTS ON MARINE BAND PROGRAM.

The United States Marine Band is coming here Wednesday afternoon and evening, at 3:30 and 8:30, under the auspices of the Rotary Club. The programs which have been arranged cover a wide range including classical, military and popular numbers which serve well to demonstrate the versatility of the band and its unusual artistic ability.

Chief among the soloists who will be featured on the afternoon program is Arthur S. Whitcomb, cornetist and second leader. Mr. Whitcomb ranks as one of the oldest members of the Marine Band, having been connected with this organization for twenty years. He is a former member of England's famous band of the Cold Stream Guards. After coming to America he served several years with the well-known Killies Band of Canada before he joined the band of Uncle Sam's "Devil Dogs."

Hervey J. Clark is bound to delight and impress the audience who attend the afternoon concert with his artistry as a trombone soloist. He is a younger brother of Robert E. Clark, also a solo trombonist with the Marine Band and recognized as one of the best in the country. Hervey, at eighteen, is one of the youngest members of the Marine Band, with which he has been associated for two years.

COLLEGE-BRED COPS.

It is a sign of the times that Chicago's chief of police, in announcing that he wants to add 2,000 men to the force, states that college men will have the preference. It would appear that the chief has learned from observation that educated men, other things being equal, will bring greater efficiency along with greater intelligence into whatever line of work they may enter. This and other developments of late years in the United States call to mind the traditional but misguided view of Dean Inge in connection with the demand for more universal education in England. Though admitting the rightness of equality of opportunity, the Dean recently expressed the fear that "an educated proletariat" would result in a crowd of starving clerks. Already, he said, the learned professions, with the exception of the church, are crowded with men starving on a pittance and worse off than men doing skilled labor.

He assumed that all educated men would enter the professions or go into offices at poor pay, unaware of the fact that in America educated young men are rapidly entering the industrial field, often choosing skilled labor in preference to office work because of the higher pay. A similar movement in England would improve its industrialism while opening possible avenues for "an educated proletariat." It would seem to be obvious enough that husky football players fresh from college and bringing trained minds along with their brawn ought to make better policemen than the average cops who have received appointment in reward for election campaign services.

AN "EMERGENCY" TARIFF.

It is widely but mistakenly supposed that the Republicans of the East are united in favor of the Fordney-McCumber tariff and that only Republicans of the West disapprove of its excessive rates and the frequent "flexible" revision upward of those rates at the request of some industrial group. The New York Herald Tribune, a leading Republican newspaper, plainly regards the Fordney-McCumber tariff as a trouble maker, and it calls for its revision on the ground that it was an emergency measure, framed when there was fear that the American market would be flooded with goods made artificially cheap by the depreciation of European currencies, and that there is no longer any basis for such fear. Says the Herald-Tribune:

Why make the present regime permanent? With currencies stabilized abroad and trade and production restored, there is no such urgent call as there used to be for emergency retaliation. Other cases may arise, as with France, in which we may not want to demand special minimum tariff treatment without giving something in return. The United States is able to protect its interests, but it is worth while to conduct all our tariff dealings with other nations on the exaggerated emergency basis of 1922?

Such comment from such a source, on top of the complaint of leading American bankers and business men that needlessly high tariffs are a check upon commerce as well as a source of misunderstandings between nations, may deeply grieve some high tariff enthusiasts, but it will appeal to the disinterested as good common sense. Why, indeed, should tariff schedules adopted in the midst of post-war panic be made permanent, let alone be revised upward to higher levels?

AN IMPORTANT OFFICE.

One of the most important offices in the city government is that of alderman-at-large, and the Republican party in nomination C. Ray Everett to succeed himself as president of the common council selected him because he has proven that he was eminently fitted to fill the position. He has served as the presiding officer of the common council since the elevation of Mayor Edgar J. Dempsey to the head of the city government.

It should not be forgotten that the man to preside as alderman-at-large should be fully acquainted with the work of the city government and capable, if necessary, to act as mayor of the city. Such a man is Mr. Everett, who is not only thoroughly acquainted with the duties of his own office but is familiar with the work of the other city departments.

Mr. Everett has shown since becoming alderman-at-large that he was the right man in the right place. He is a man of keen business judgment and ability and has always been active in the civic life of the city.

In electing Mr. Everett the voters will be picking in office a man who is not only qualified for the position but who will work in harmony with Mayor Dempsey in carrying on the city's business as it should be carried on.

LIVE ISSUES AND DEAD WORDS.

The Irish Free State government, opposed by De Valera and his republican followers, has come to a test again, and the Free State or Dominion form of government has won once more. President Cosgrave has been re-elected as head of the executive council of the new Dail Eireann, with a safe majority, and can form a cabinet to suit him and go ahead again. He has no party majority, but the Farmer and Independent votes he controls give him all the parliamentary support he needs.

An interesting feature of the parliamentary opening was a fiery denunciation of Cosgrave by Sean O'Kelly, De Valera's chief lieutenant. But inasmuch as it was made in ancient Irish, it had little effect. Cosgrave and most of the other members of the Irish parliament cannot understand Irish, and few of the nation can.

If the opposition wants to make its speeches count, it had better speak English, which though an unpopular tongue in Ireland, is nevertheless vigorous enough for the purpose and intelligible to everybody. It is questionable whether any living cause has ever been won by orating about it in a dead language.

THAT BODY OF YOURS

James W. Barton, M.D.

(Registered in accordance with the Copyright Act.)
 SCIATIC PAIN.

Physicians of even just a few years back, will remember that the severe pain in the hip and leg called sciatica, was considered an ailment whose cause was unknown, and all they could do was to try and relieve the pain.

The sufferers from sciatica are many, and always have been many, as this pain has been known for thousands of years.

Accordingly all manner of treatment was given, such as heat, massage, blistering the skin and stretching the nerve itself.

However often during some of this treatment the patient had to remain quietly in bed, and perhaps in a few weeks the pain would pass away, and might not return for months or even years.

Observant physicians noted that in addition to the pain in the hip and legs, there was a stiffness of the muscles in the small of the back. It was noted that the patient was unable to bend the back without severe pain.

Now a stiffening of the muscles means that the muscles are trying to protect a part, to prevent movement, because a movement causes pain. This leads Dr. Goldthwait of Boston to the discovery that in these cases there was an inflammation of the joints between the bones of the spine and the wide hip bones.

This inflammation came from an infection in the body, usually from teeth, tonsils, sinuses or gall bladder.

He also discovered that in certain types of bodies a portion of the last bone of the spine was so wide that it did not give sufficient room to the nerve coming out from the spinal column to the hip and leg, and causes some pressure which in turn caused the sciatica. This discovery suggested the proper treatment.

Accordingly this most painful symptom can now be corrected in practically every case.

First, by removing any infected teeth, tonsils, and so forth, and by using a brace that prevents movement in these joints until the inflammation all passes away.

It is certainly gratifying to know that such a painful condition (because the sciatic is the largest nerve in the body) is now under control.

The use of heat or electricity to "loosen" the stiff muscles, helps in the treatment. Where the irritation is due to injury from lifting or making a step that was unexpected, the brace is the best treatment.

TWENTY AND TEN YEARS AGO.

Oct. 15, 1907.—Fred H. Harker, 11 years old, of Ellenville awarded a Carnegie hero medal and $2,000. F. E. W. Darrow elected president of Ulster County Republican Club.

Raphael Murphy, John W. Eckert and George F. Kaufman appointed members of Kingston Academy debating team.

Oct. 15, 1917.—Casper C. Bailey and Miss Lorena Scharach, both of this city, married in Rosendale by the Rev. J. R. Simmons.

Death of Mrs. Mary Ann Sickler of DuBois street.

Mrs. John McGuire died at her home on Cedar street.

Annual meeting of Kingston City Hospital Association held.

Then Spring Arrives

The pussy willow, probably more than any other tree, tells the people of both city and country when spring is here, says the American Tree association. During a brief period of spring it gives the chief touch of beauty to the landscape through its fine display of yellow blossoms that are visited by thousands of bees.

ULSTER PARK GRANGE PLANS ACTIVITIES

Ulster Park, Oct. 17.—Ulster Grange, No. 575, will hold its regular meeting on Wednesday evening, October 19, at 7:30 o'clock. The program for the evening will be in charge of Worthey Master and Mrs. R. Klein. It is the meeting nearest Halloween so the program will be one suitable for that event. Mrs. Klein has arranged a play to be given by the children of the Grange. Mrs. J. H. Van Vliet, chairman of the social committee, will see that suitable refreshments are served. On November 4 the Grange will hold a private masquerade dance for members and their friends. At the last meeting there was an attractive exhibit of fruit, which through the kindness of Brother Melvin Churchwell was taken to the Industrial Home at Kingston.

Not So Big

Hal Caine was the guest of honor at a literary dinner, and it fell to Thomas Nelson Page to introduce him in what the reporters are fond of calling "a few well-chosen sentences."

Just before rising to do so, Page passed his menu card to Caine with a request that he autograph it.

"After you have spoken," whispered Sir Hall.

"No, no—do it now," said Page. Caine obeyed, and later he asked his introducer why he had been in so great a hurry to obtain his signature.

"Well," said Page, "if you must know, it was because I wanted to be able to say truthfully that I had read something you had written."

"But, darling, don't you want to marry a man who is economical?"

"I suppose so; but it's awful being engaged to him."

Experienced Owners Praise STUDEBAKER'S ERSKINE SIX

Experienced drivers have taken to the Erskine Six most enthusiastically. Owners who praise it most are those who have owned many automobiles. They recognize the Erskine Six as modern transportation at its advanced best!

Drive it yourself—you be the judge!

But opinions of others cannot prove to you how much the Erskine Six is your kind of a car. Test it for yourself—and give it a real workout. Watch it on the hills—note its acceleration—give it the throttle and feel it step out smoothly at a 50 or 60-mile gait.

Low first cost and low upkeep as well. Desirable to own for its handling ease, agility, comfort and dependability. A great car judged by any standards. Drive an Erskine—today!

Has Had Six Cars

"I find my Erskine car Okay in every respect and I must say that it is one of the best cars I ever drove, and I have had six cars in my time."
 J. W., New Brunswick, N. J.

Best Small Car

"I think it is one of the best small cars I have ever driven and would recommend it without reservation."
 H. K. B., Philadelphia, Pa.

Most Economical

"I recommend this little car to anyone in the market for an automobile. I have had eight cars to date but find The Erskine the most economical car."
 F. J. S., Englewood, N. J.

Likes Erskine Best

"This is our third Studebaker—one Big Six—one Standard Six—and The Erskine. Like The Erskine best of any. It performs as well as cars twice its price."
 A. C., Strang, Okla.

100 Miles—7 Gallons

"My last car was a Studebaker Coach which gave good satisfaction. The two previous cars to that were B—Sixes. I like the little Erskine better than any car I ever owned. My son drove it 180 miles on 7 gallons of gasoline. I have a greater sense of security in it than any car I have ever ridden in. It was the first one in this section and has attracted much favorable attention."
 T. M. C., Lakemont, N. Y.

Peppy, Speedy

"This little Erskine handles nicer than any car I have ever driven. Handles nice in traffic. Peppy and speedy when it is needed. Also can be throttled down to one mile an hour. It is very comfortable to ride in and doesn't tire the driver."
 P. C. M., Alva, Okla.

Wouldn't Trade

"This is the only real car I have ever owned. I have had several other cars and I don't think there is any $1800 car on the market I would trade my Erskine for."
 F. C., Kingston, N. C.

Owned Ten Studebakers

"My Erskine looks good and runs fine. This makes ten Studebakers my father and I have had."
 E. B. L., Barnesville, Ohio

Outclasses Others

"Just a word as I have been the owner of different cars. The Erskine has them all out-classed in every way."
 A. H. D., Columbus, Ohio

Best for Physician

"The best car for my practice I have owned in 18 years and I have had some expensive ones."
 Dr. A. V. F., Sapulpa, Okla.

—and for Nurses

"I am a nurse and have driven doctors' cars for 15 years. Have driven medium priced and expensive cars to Kansas City and returned tired to death, about 160 miles."

"This summer I drove a sick doctor to Colorado in my Erskine Six a little more than 200 miles a day for three days, and as far as the driving is concerned, I was not tired when we reached Colorado. We were quite comfortable with three in the car. At every stop we would find a crowd looking the car over and wanting to know all about it. It is a good looking, dandy little car."

Mrs. C. L. S., Topeka, Kans.

Well Pleased

"I am well pleased with the car. Like it better than any I have ever owned."
 W. H. R., McMinnville, Tenn.

Registration Is Almost Double

The registration of voters for the first two days in Kingston this year is almost double the first two days of 1926. The registration this year is 7,170 while that of the first two days in 1926 was 3,902, or 2,268 more this year than last.

The total registration for the four days last year was 12,920. Friday and Saturday of this week are the last two days of registration here. If you are not registered you cannot vote in November.

LAST NIGHT on the RADIO

There was a little more distance obtainable Monday night and less strength from the local stations. One of the freaks was fair reception from WJAX at Jacksonville, Florida, from 8 to 10 o'clock, while much more powerful stations much nearer could not be heard. CNRO, CNRM and CFCF were heard but were weak. KDKA, WLW and WSAI were in and outers, heard for a short time and then going out. WJZ had a very bad spell in the latter part of the ice cream program, apparently due to wire trouble. For those interested in history the Victory Mills dinner speeches sent out by WGY were very interesting and could easily be tuned in. Turning from WJZ at the end of the speechmaking, the ice cream singers were picked up singing "Horses", that grand old favorite of all who love good music and refined songs, which has not been heard for nearly a year. And this was the end of a perfect day.

HALWICK TO GO WITH ELMIRA CORPORATION

John Halwick of Flatbush, who has been town superintendent of highways in the town of Ulster for the past eight years, and served fourteen years with the State Department of Highways, on January 1, 1928, will take a position with the Highway Product and Manufacturing Company, Inc., of Elmira. Because of his long training in highway work and practical experience, Mr. Halwick was given a fine offer by the Elmira corporation and accepted it to take effect on January 1, at the expiration of his present term of office.

CELEBRATED TERRIERS ARE NAMED MARGARET

Margaret is the prominent dog name of the days, says Field and Fancy. Talavera Margaret, the sensational Wire Fox Terrier owned by Reginald M. Lewis of Ridgefield, Conn., is winning time and time again for best in show. Ch. Margaret of Delsmere, the Smooth Fox Terrier owned by J. T. DuBois of Baldwin, L. I., is the best Smooth Fox Terrier in America, according to Roger Phillips and other great English experts. Then, too, there is that great Sealysham Terrier, the Int. Ch. St. Margaret Surprise of Lucknow, owned by J. Robinson Beckford, South Norwalk, Conn.

Skunk Rewards Human Kindness

Batavia, N. Y., Oct. 18 (P).—Androcles showed great courage in removing the thorn from the lion, but Batavia citizens were asking today how about Harry Russell and Lockwood Ager?

"There's a skunk running around here with a can on," said an on-duty voice telephoning to police headquarters.

"Well, what do you want us to do? Make an arrest on a public intoxication charge?" the desk sergeant answered.

It developed that a full grown skunk had been running blindly around in Franklin street with a salmon can wedged over its head and unable to find the open fields back of the street.

Russell and Ager, employees of the factory, picked up the skunk before the police arrived and with a pair of shears removed the can from its head and allowed the animal to scurry away unharmed.

The appreciative skunk spared its benefactors.

Normal Girls Enjoy Hikes

The fact is advantageously situated and the faculty and students of New Paltz Normal School are not surprised that the school is the opportunity of a hike. There are many places that stimulate interest in outdoor life at the Normal. Already the fall term has been a hike and board race, a treasure hunt, hikes and a picnic day.

Realizing the advantages of Lake Mohonk and Minnewaska, the faculty planned two hikes to these places for Columbus Day. The day was anticipated with great expectations. Minnewaska seemed to be favored less than Mohonk for only two girls took the hike to the former place. They, however, had quite an experience. They encountered a large bird, which they think was an eagle.

Minnewaska, unlike Mohonk, depends upon nature for its beauty. The sense of quiet peace and solitude embraced the two hikers and after traveling for about thirty miles they found themselves back in New Paltz but greatly satisfied with their trip.

Mohonk is quite different from Minnewaska in the respect that more money has been spent to beautify it. It is well taken care of and every place shows that man has striven to attract travelers. One is also struck by the beauty of Mohonk. Although man has made Mohonk to a certain extent, he has been careful not to make it too artificial. Sky top was one of the greatest attractions. The girls climbed to the top where they could see cities many miles in all directions. Having enjoyed their hike and having lost some of their "pup" the girls returned seemingly content to contemplate the day's experience on their way back to New Paltz.

Developing Style Appeal

Pertinent Facts Regarding This State

IN NEW YORK STATE there are 886 firms engaged in the manufacture of Knit Goods. These firms employ 50,337 persons with an annual wage of $44,411,335. The value of the products manufactured is estimated at $230,525,505.

STYLE tendencies in knit wear have shown material changes during the past few years with the result that, today, manufacturers are catering to the style consciousness of their markets and are bending every effort to create and develop it to its greatest limit. This has been evidenced by the introduction of new products and new materials, with their attendant new colors and shades.

The knit goods manufacturer located in New York State has had some complexing problems to solve to merchandize his product profitably. But there are factors and conditions existing in his own state which are very helpful to his particular situation:—A large market easily accessible for sales and transportation, made up of folks who are keenly sensitive to style suggestion and who have an earning capacity which insures their ability to satisfy their wants. Every one of the 11,000,000 people of this state are potential buyers for some form of knit wear either for regular wear or sport wear.

To develop the style consciousness of the people of this market means that your message of style combined with utility and quality must be brought directly to the people who make up this vast, compact market. The daily newspapers of the state offer manufacturers the most direct and economical method of effectively reaching every possible buyer. They reach daily into the 2½ million homes, taking and delivering your message when and where it will work for you in developing a larger sales volume.

All manufacturers interested in further developing or extending their market will be interested in the facts available, showing the possibilities of this market as briefly outlined above. Ask your newspaper or write The Advertising Bureau, NEW YORK STATE PUBLISHERS, 709 Charlotte St., Utica, N. Y. This service is absolutely unbiased and is offered free to all interested.

Red Cross Nurses Battle Disease

Red Cross Nursing Service Waging Battle Against Disease in All Parts of the World—How Work is Conducted.

The American Red Cross nursing service is waging a campaign against disease and suffering which literally reaches around the world.

Information contained in the organization's annual report shows that through the establishment of schools of nursing, the emergency care of destitute refugees, public health nursing activities, and instruction in home hygiene and care of the sick by nurses recruited from its ranks, it has given modern nursing to many lands which before lacked it.

This arm of the American Red Cross, the report states, has helped to save the lives of thousands of children in Poland, the Baltic States, Hungary, the Balkans, Siberia, and Greece. In many of these countries, child welfare stations have been left behind as a legacy to the people. Public health nurses, and home hygiene instructors procured through this service are educating for health the peoples of the Philippines, the Canal Zone, the Virgin Islands, and Hawaii.

Another phase of this program of an indirect nature is the work being done in many isolated mission stations in China, India, South Africa, South America, and other lands where American Red Cross nurses are striving to bring about better health conditions. Although little may be heard of this quiet campaign that is constantly being waged against illness and suffering, says the report, the influence of the American Red Cross nursing service nevertheless is reaching around the world, raising the standards of nursing, promoting the cause of health, and carrying on an uncompromising war against sickness and disease.

45,000 in Nursing Reserve. At home, as well as abroad, the Red Cross nursing service plays a major role in meeting emergencies. Its nursing reserve, which according to the report consists of 45,000 nurses who have passed exacting qualifications, is ready for service at all times. When the Florida hurricane left more than 6,000 injured persons in its wake, the Red Cross recruited nurses for duty there from its reserve. When the Mississippi Valley suffered the most destructive flood in the country's history, the Red Cross again turned to its nursing reserve for a sufficient staff to meet that emergency.

In the event of other national emergencies, such as great disasters or war, these nurses can be mustered on a moment's notice from the "active list" which numbers about 27,000. The swift dispatch of nurses to towns devastated by tornadoes and hurricanes, and to scenes of mine disasters and epidemics has in the past tested and proved the practicability of this preparedness machinery.

Making possible this efficiency is an intricate network of service. At national headquarters of the Red Cross in Washington the National Committee on Red Cross Nursing Service centralizes the work of nearly 200 state and local committees in the country. Each local committee has on file a list of all enrolled nurses residing in its territory, and when an emergency occurs these nurses are mustered by telephone, radio, and telegraph through committees near the scene of the disaster.

The Red Cross is an official arm of the Navy and Army, and tents, air transportation, blankets and other government supplies are always available when needed.

In New York there are fourteen nursing committees with a total enrollment of 5,475 nurses which can be summoned for emergency duty, according to the annual report.

MILTON.

Milton, Oct. 17.—Mr. and Mrs. John Forster of Middletown were week-end visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Egbert Alsdorf. Mr. and Mrs. Forster were former residents of Milton and their many friends were very glad to see them again.

It is expected that the cold storage plant of the Hudson River Fruit Exchange will be completed by the first of July, 1928.

The Maids and Matrons' Club will hold its monthly meeting at their rooms in the Community House, Tuesday evening, October 18.

The Milton Melody Club held its monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Everett Hyatt Wednesday afternoon. Plans were made for the presentation of the Japanese operetta, "Princess Chrysanthemum" on October 28.

The annual Harvest Home Festival of the Milton Presbyterian Church was held at the church Sunday morning. There was a large and generous donation of fruit, vegetables and canned fruits, all of which will be sent to the Industrial Home at Kingston.

The severe wind and rain storm last Wednesday night did considerable damage around this section to the fruit. Apples and pears were blown off the trees, also branches of trees. The bulk of the crops had been gathered but considerable fruit was destroyed. The leaves on the grape vines were considerably torn by the wind and hail stones.

The board of trustees of the Milton Consolidated School District met last Tuesday evening and the subject of school improvements was discussed. It was decided to erect more satisfactory safety signs for traffic passing School No. 2.

The first toxin-antitoxin treatment in Milton was given at the Health Center last Tuesday. There were forty-seven in attendance. Dr. Harris of Marlborough was in charge, assisted by Miss Minnie Strohman, community nurse, Mrs. E. A. Martin, Mrs. D. M. Warren, Mrs. Walter McMichael, Mrs. Gifford Hollock, and Miss Loretta Spratt.

Cecil Haworth, formerly of Idaho, has been engaged for a year to supply the pulpit of the Friends' Church. Heavy shipments of grapes from this section are being made by the Hudson River Fruit Exchange. Shipments are made mostly by trucks and boat to New York, ranging between fifteen and twenty thousand pounds a day. The Exchange is also purchasing Kiefer pears. The Exchange has been offering 90 cents a hundred pounds.

The Milton Girl Scouts recently elected the following officers: Miss Marie Cubard, Miss Winifred Driscoll, and Miss Cathryn Howard. Assistants to their captain, Miss Minnie Strohman, Margaret Moran, first patrol leader; Helen Libonatti and Angelena Pantusco, leader of the third patrol; Frances Glancy and Dorothy Fisher, second patrol; Olive Barrett, treasurer, and Eleanor Clarke, secretary. Eugene Patten and Thomas McManus attended the Danbury Fair recently.

Justice Edward A. Martin has been seriously ill at his home on Sands avenue with pleura pneumonia, but is now much better. Mr. Martin's many friends here hope for his speedy recovery.

The children here enjoyed a vacation on Columbus Day from their school duties.

Prof. and Mrs. D. M. Warren were visitors in Maiden Columbus Day. George Wood of Balmville and a former resident of Milton is seriously ill at his home.

A number of our people attended the first of three concerts in Newburgh last Monday evening, also the sesquicentennial on Columbus Day. The ladies of All Saints' Church will hold a benefit dinner Wednesday, October 26.

Don Marcotte at Victory Ball

DON MARCOTTE.

The WEAF Vagabonds, under the direction of Don Marcotte, have become a versatile orchestra. The Vagabonds have specialized in "jazz" and when they make their appearance at the American Legion Victory Ball November 11, dance lovers should be well pleased with their efforts. Don Marcotte gives his version of the popular "jazz" music of today.

Jazz doesn't "just happen," the leader of the Vagabonds, insists. Jazz artists are not born comedians, although they get loads of fun and entertainment out of their work. Dance jazz is different from stage jazz and each has its place in the world of musical thrills.

When music masters of the old school try to compare 1927 jazz with the immortal themes of the classical composers, Marcotte lacks sympathy. Here, again, he points out, each has its place, just as bromo seltzer frequently follows, but never precedes Scotch or rye.

Jazz has a technique all its own and Marcotte's boys have mastered it. All working together under Don's experienced direction, they have built up a zippy program.

LOCAL BOY COMMISSIONED IN PURDUE MILITARY UNIT.

Lafayette, Ind., Oct. 15.—(Special)—H. B. Proper of Kingston, N. Y., a junior in the school of mechanical engineering at Purdue University, has been named a second lieutenant in the university R. O. T. C., according to the complete list announced by Major L. J. McNair, U. S. Army commandant at Purdue. This means that Mr. Proper by electing to continue the military training which he took in his freshman and sophomore years has assumed regular officers' duties in the Purdue military unit, which has attained a national reputation for the high quality of its work. Eight times Purdue has been designated as a "Distinguished College" by the War Department because of its good work, establishing a mark not equaled by any other institution in the country aside from military schools. The unit is the largest artillery outfit in any educational institution of the United States and is the only one with motorized equipment, which gives the students taking this work much valuable technical training aside from their other class work. Purdue each year produces more officers for the artillery branch of the U. S. Army than does the regular army academy at West Point.

Hallowe'en Party at Esopus.

The Choral Club of the Esopus M. E. Church will hold a masquerade party at the Red Men's Hall October 26. The various committees have planned a very interesting program of stunts and games. There will be a prize for the best dress. Ice cream, cake, coffee and hot dogs will be on sale. Everybody welcome.

THRILLING SMOOTHER PERFORMANCE

TWO-DOOR SEDAN BODY BY FISHER

Keen appreciation has greeted Oldsmobile's smart new beauty. Naturally such modish lines and striking colors would win the lion's share of admiration from those who know it only "from the curb". But every day Oldsmobile performance seizes the attention of those who never knew it before—because you can't know it till you drive the car. Visit our showrooms... drive an Oldsmobile... and you, too, will recognize its thrilling, smoother performance as its crowning feature. It is the overflowing measure of value now yours at its low price—$875 for a fine closed car.

Says Prohibition Is Far from Dead

Washington, Oct. 18.—Prohibition is a political issue, in the opinion of Senator Birch Bayh, Republican, Indiana, who is far from dead and in near indifference to the subject. Bayh, who has accepted an invitation to speak before the New York Women's Committee for Law Enforcement, November 12, in New York.

His acceptance was subject, however, to a stipulation that that organization take definite action with the political parties and he has been given the assurance that the meeting which he will address was called for that purpose.

In a letter to the committee the senator deplored evasion of the prohibition question by "an insipid, meaningless" belief in law and order.

Now— BEAN HOLE BEANS

—with that wonderful "woods" flavor

—a flavor never improved even by countless new methods of baking beans since the first beans were baked in an outdoor oven called the "bean hole"

Baked beans has become the most popular of the distinctive national dishes peculiar to this country.

Despite the fact however that their popularity increases steadily from year to year, no new method of baking beans has improved upon the original way in the outdoor oven.

Flavors peculiar to the wood fire and the very forest itself have always been absent.

But the noted bean baker,
Van Camp, decided that it was not impossible to reproduce the "woods" flavor of beans baked in the north woods "bean hole."

Now he has announced his latest piece of creative work in bean baking—Bean Hole Beans!

Baked beans that match perfectly the old-time fragrant flavors of beans baked in the old-fashioned outdoor earthen ovens in Maine!

FOOD FOR THE FAMILY

When grapes are ripe and plentiful make this the relish to eat with meats and water.

Grape Catsup.—Wash the grapes thoroughly, put in a bowl, add a teaspoonful of salt, and a teaspoonful of sugar. Let them stand for a few hours, then strain them through a cloth, and add a teaspoonful of vinegar.
Bottle and seal.

Walnut Graham Bread.—Take one cupful of flour, two and one-half cupfuls of water, one cupful of milk, two eggs, one-half cupful of sugar, one-half cupful of salt, two teaspoonsful of soda and one cupful of chopped walnut meats.
Bake as usual.

Curried Steak With Rice.—Cook together two slices of beef (about one and one-half pounds) and one cupful of cooked rice when well seasoned with salt and pepper, place the filling on a slice of round steak, roll up and tie. Roll in seasoned flour and brown in fat. Place on the back of the stove or in the oven with plenty of water to partly cover. Add a teaspoonful or less of curry powder to the flour. Cook for two hours or more. The amount of filling will depend upon the size of the family and the steak. Remove the steaks, serve with the sauce poured over it.

Nuts With Tomatoes.—Mix one cupful of chopped nuts with two cupfuls of bread crumbs. Moisten with cream, season with salt, grated nutmeg and pepper. Mix well, then add the beaten yolks of three eggs and the stiffly beaten white of one. Spread the bottom of a platter with this mixture and on it arrange whole tomatoes, peeled.
Dot with bits of butter and bake in a moderate oven. Serve with a drawn butter sauce.

New York.—And then my heart

my mind recently while watching a hallroom floor, with its swaying figures with flower-like outline, and its golden tones, including not only the yellow of the daffodil but many other yellows as well.

Reports from foreign fashion centers have impressed yellow on our minds, but even before these reports were generally circulated, delightful yellow gowns were worn by women whose judgment is closely followed.
Some authorities, in listing colors, rank pink first, green second, and yellow third. There is such a faint line of demarcation between some yellows and greens that it seems more just to give yellow second place, at least. In this classification one includes, for convenience, topaz, amethyst, banana, honey, and perhaps even beige, a color that has considerable standing for evening despite the fact that it seems to many a rather extraordinary choice.

The supremacy of the all-black gown is questioned by no one. It may be in anything from diaphanous tulle to the formality of velvet; it may be unrelieved black, or it may be black intensified by glitter, in the way of crystal, silver, or rhinestone, preferably the last. A dotted black net, the dots being lozenge-shaped or in tiny cubes, is a Goupy conceit that has many admirers. Goupy combines net with a more substantial fabric in other charming instances.

New Faces in Saturday's Games

Injuries Will Keep Varsity Players Out of Games This Week—Squads Built For Struggles on Saturday.

New York, Oct. 18 (AP).—First casualties of a serious nature have been reported from several sections along the eastern football front and next Saturday's contests may see new faces in various lineups. Syracuse, Pennsylvania, Colgate, Lafayette, Harvard, Yale and Navy had one or more varsity players on the side lines yesterday as they started their drives for important skirmishes. Some of the injured are expected to be well enough to get into action by Saturday but others are definitely out for a week or more.

Four men were absent in Lafayette's camp as the squad prepared for the game with Washington and Jefferson. Captain Cothran and Burnett, the tackle, Guest, fullback, and Wilson, halfback, were missing. Clark, Harvard's regular left tackle, will be out of the Dartmouth game because of a leg injury received in the Holy Cross contest. Guaraccola, backfield star, also is troubled with a leg injury but probably will be in the lineup Saturday. Eddy, Navy's right guard, will be relegated to the bench for a week or more because of a shoulder hurt received in the Notre Dame game. Captain Ray Barbur, Syracuse's 190 pound fullback and defensive star, may not be able to start against Penn State, a team which never has been able to cross the orange goal line. Shaughnessy and Galloway, Colgate backs, may be out of the game with Wabash College of Indiana.

Paul Scull and Shober, backfield stars, and Utz, lineman, play in Penn's lineup against Chicago Saturday, physicians say. Coast Lou Young is not inclined to hurry his injured stars along, for with a schedule that includes Navy, Harvard, Columbia and Cornell, in order, the Red and Blue will have to keep its casualties to a minimum or pass out of the running.

Dartmouth has started away on its drive for the Harvard game with a long drill. The coaching staff expressed some concern with the form of the big Green, fearing that Dartmouth's rather easy opposition to date has not been for the best. Some of the older stars have returned to Hanover to help out in the coaching.

Anderson Stars For Army Team

Fred L. Anderson, Jr., who established himself as an athlete at Kingston High School, played Saturday afternoon in the football game between the Army and Davis-Elkins when he ran forty-five yards for a touchdown for the Army, after intercepting a forward pass made by his opponents. The play made in the last quarter was the most thrilling of the game won by the Army, 27-6, on the West Point gridiron.

Mr. Anderson is now a lieutenant at the West Point Academy from which he will be graduated in 1928. He entered the institution after his graduation from Kingston High School where he not only excelled as an athlete but in his academic work.

While a student at Kingston High School he played on several athletic teams. His accomplishments as a high school star probably cannot compare with the feat he performed for the Army team. He was sent into the game to relieve Borni, the regular tackle and although classed a sub before the spectacular play established himself as a capable and desirous player.

RED GRANGE WILL NOW CARRY A CANE.

Chicago, Oct. 18 (AP).—Red Grange's injury in Sunday's professional football game has brought fulfillment of one of the famous "galloping ghosts" cherished ambitions—the privilege of wearing a cane.

"For years I longed to carry a cane," said Red, who takes pride in a modest reputation as a smart dresser. "But I was too shy. Now I can carry one, but I'm not so keen about the condition which makes it necessary. A torn tendon is bad, but just think, it might have been my knee."

Grange still thinks he will be able to play next Sunday though he could hardly walk on the injured leg today.

Football Fatality.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 18 (AP).—When tacklers tangled themselves from John C. Clark, 14 year old high school freshman, who was returning the kickoff in an intramural game yesterday they found him dead. Doctors said death was due to heart disease.

Changes Score.

Pittsburgh, Oct. 18 (AP).—Official records credit Washington and Jefferson with a 19 to 6 victory over Carnegie Tech. and not 20 to 6, as published after the game Saturday. John P. Egan, referee, says he ruled Amos's try for point after Washington and Jefferson's third touchdown a failure. Reporters in the press box said the kick looked good and the scoreboard so recorded it.

There's plenty of plain food, but it all has a luxury price tag those days.

Local Scrappers On Big Card

Three Kingston Boxers to Battle at Woodcliff Park, Poughkeepsie—Thirty-Four Rounds To Be Staged, Thursday.

The fight fans of the Hudson river valley will be offered thirty-four rounds of boxing Thursday night, October 20, at Woodcliff Park, Poughkeepsie, when the Industrial League of the Bridge City stages its third show of the season. Kingston will be well represented in the roped arena for Charlie Fisher, Roy Van Buren and Johnny Carpio will be among the battlers. Joe Vosdick, formerly of Saugerties and now of Jersey City, well known here, will appear in the main bout.

Joe Vosdick is scheduled to meet Jackie Reid of Newburgh for eight rounds. Vosdick kayaked Jerry Samperi in one round at the last show in Poughkeepsie while Jackie Reid won a decision over Charlie Fisher. The semi-final will bring together Frankie Minerva, fast stepping boy from the New Paltz vicinity who displayed his talents at the Fair Grounds here, and Joe Colletti, former flyweight champion of the Hudson valley. The appearance of Colletti in the roped arena will be the first in over a year.

Johnny Carpio and Charlie Fisher will meet in a special six round setto. No doubt this will be a "hummer" as the two Kingston lads are noted for their stamina and ability to punch.

Yellow Jackets Practice Tonight

The Yellow Jackets, Kingston's official representatives on the gridiron, will hold a practice session tonight at the usual time in the rear of the armory. A general going-over will be the principal work for the McLean men in preparation for the third victory of the season at the Fair Grounds Sunday afternoon.

It is probable that the Yellow Jackets will meet Beacon Sunday. However, the contest cannot be assured as Manager Bill Dwyer has not completed negotiations with the downriver team. The yellow jackets scored two shut-outs over the Beacon players last season and have the Indian sign on them, as it were. The Beacon men are out to overcome the showing they made last season and are preparing for a hard game with Kingston's warriors. It is needless to say that the Yellow Jackets will have to play harder than ever before in order to hold the Beaconites in check.

PRINCETON MEETS CORNELL FIRST TIME SINCE 1907

Ithaca, N. Y., Oct. 18 (AP).—Resumption of football relations between Cornell and Princeton in Ithaca, October 22, doubtless will find President Livingston Farrand of Cornell struggling with conflicting emotions of loyalty.

While President Farrand will be cheering for the big red eleven his sympathies also may be swayed by the fact that he is a graduate of Princeton.

The Tiger comes to grips with Cornell for the first time since 1907. Hundreds of bleacher seats have been added to the accommodations at Schoellkopf Field in expectation of a crowd of 35,000.

DEMPEY-TUNNEY FIGHT PICTURES IN PARIS

Paris, Oct. 18 (AP).—Motion pictures of the Dempsey-Tunney fight have been shown in Paris for the first time before large audiences in which Dempsey sentiment seemed to predominate.

The spectators groaned, however, when Tunney was knocked down in the seventh round. Women shrieked and men cheered just as they are accustomed to do at a regular prize fight.

"It is a good thing the battle was not fought in France, Tunney would have been counted out," Henri Bernstein, France's premier referee, declared.

ROAMER QUINTET TO ORGANIZE THIS SEASON

The Roamers' basketball team will be seen in action again this winter. The Roamers made quite a reputation last year on the basketball court in downing some of the strongest teams in this vicinity. Teams wishing to play the Roamers get in touch with H. Bittner, 223 West Chester street, Kingston, N. Y.

The Roamers will line up with some of the best amateur players in this locality. The following players will be seen in the Roamers' uniforms: "Stretch" Cahill, "Abner" Bittner, "Cog" Borke, "Al" Blackwell, "Dab" Raichle and "Bob" Cullum.

Changes Score.

Pittsburgh, Oct. 18 (AP).—Official records credit Washington and Jefferson with a 19 to 6 victory over Carnegie Tech. and not 20 to 6, as published after the game Saturday. John P. Egan, referee, says he ruled Amos's try for point after Washington and Jefferson's third touchdown a failure. Reporters in the press box said the kick looked good and the scoreboard so recorded it.

There's plenty of plain food, but it all has a luxury price tag those days.

MAN WITHOUT A BASEBALL COUNTRY

Hazen (Kiki) Cuyler, subject of one of the most baffling baseball problems in years, frankly admits being a "man without a baseball country."

Conceded to be one of the three premier outfielders of the major leagues, Cuyler was relegated into boxscore obscurity last season, when he was fined and benched by Manager Donohue of the Pittsburgh team. Indifferent playing was given as the official explanation for his suspension, but many ugly rumors followed in its wake, none of which were confirmed. Day in and day out, Kiki warmed the bench. Even during the World's Series, when his services were obviously needed, Manager Bush doggedly refused to call upon him to fill a menacing gap.

Kiki won't be with Pittsburgh next year. That's a certainty. But directors-in-chief of the disappointing Pirate team, from President Dreyfus down to Manager Bush, mysteriously refuse to divulge their plans. As for Kiki, he admits being in the dark.

"I don't know what it's all about," he says. "I'm like the guy without a country—as far as baseball is concerned."

MISS GLEITZ WILL AGAIN TRY THE CHANNEL SWIM

London, Oct. 18 (AP).—"I shall try to lift the cloud from English swimmers," Miss Mercedes Gleitz, London typist and channel swimmer, declared today before setting out for Boulogne, France, whence she will go to Cape Gris Nez to attempt to repeat her channel swim "as a personal vindication and for the honor of women swimmers."

"Dr. Dorothy Cochrane Logan's hoax has covered us with suspicion and filled the minds of the public with doubt," she added. "The water is much colder now than when I swam the channel, October 7. The weather conditions are not so favorable now—but I feel that I must try it. Something must be done to restore the prestige which Dr. Logan's criticisms have impaired."

The young typist refused to make any promises or to threaten to break the record of 14 hours and 31 minutes held by Gertrude Ederle of New York. "I shall do what I can," she said.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Oct. 15 (AP).—Stock prices resumed their upward movement today after an early period of lateness. With the technical position of the market undoubtedly improved by yesterday's sharp reaction and a strong investment demand still apparent, as indicated by the prompt over subscription of the $44,000,000 American quota of the $70,000,000 Polish loan, speculators for the advance resumed their operations with confidence. Early losses of 1 to 3 points were substantially reduced or wiped out, and in many cases replaced with moderate gains.

Bullish enthusiasm was engendered by President Coolidge's report of improved business and by Senator Smoot's prediction of a sizeable tax cut by the next Congress. Lowering of the call money rate from 4 1/2 to 4 percent also was a factor. U. S. Steel common which had sold down to 124 1/2, before midday, sold around 144 1/2 by early afternoon. General Motors rallied from a low of 134 1/2 to 135 1/2. Midland Steel Products preferred, Philadelphia Company, Brooklyn Union Gas and Underwood Typewriter sold 3 to 4 points above last night's closing quotations. Radio Corporation, People's Gas, Dupont, U. S. Rubber and Collins and Aikman advanced 2 points or more.

Rails were rather quiet, although brisk buying was noted in Wabash, Erie and some of the other so-called merger issues.

City Firemen Meet on Friday

Will Arrange for Holding Old Home Week and Indoor Circus at Armory. Latter Part of November—All Companies Will Assist.

Friday evening there will be a meeting of representatives of the ten volunteer fire companies of the city at the Central Fire Station to discuss plans for holding an Old Home Week and an indoor circus at the state armory. The meeting was planned for last week but the men who will put on the circus were unable to be present and for that reason the matter will be held Friday instead.

All ten of the fire companies are behind the Old Home Week and the date fixed is the week commencing November 28 and ending December 3. The indoor circus will be staged in the armory which will afford plenty of room for the big show. It is expected that the event will prove one of the most popular entertainments ever staged in Kingston. The proceeds will be used to help defray the cost of entertaining the delegates of the Hudson Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association when they hold the annual convention in Kingston next June.

Local Death Record

Milton, Oct. 15.—Funeral services for the late Martin Gavin were held from St. James Church last Friday morning at 10 o'clock. The Rev. M. J. Tighe officiated. The bearers were James Conley, Michael Conroy, Richard Conboy, Fred Theill, Francis Kany and Frank McNicholas. Interment was in the Lattinoway cemetery.

William H. Keator, former resident of Rosendale, died at his home in Albany Sunday, October 16. Besides his wife, he is survived by two sons, Harry and Weber, a brother, Alexander and a sister, Anna. Keator, Funeral Wednesday upon the arrival of the 11:45 West Shore train here from where the remains will be taken to Rosendale Plains Cemetery for interment.

Dr. Maurice H. Youngman, a former resident of Kingston, died Monday at Westerville, Pa., aged 68 years. He was a widely known Atlantic City, N. J., physician and banker, and was vice president of the Atlantic City Safe Deposit and Trust Company. For many years he was a member of the Atlantic City board of health. The Youngman family at one time conducted a boarding house at Abel and Post streets.

The funeral of Floyd I. Lambert, who died at his home in New Salem Saturday, was held Monday afternoon from his late residence. The Rev. G. W. Gulick of Ulster Park conducted the services. A profusion of beautiful floral offerings attested to the high esteem in which the deceased was held. The bearers were William Haber, Arthur Haber, Ralph Freer, Richard Burgher, Eugene Cornwell and Harry Freer. Interment was in the family plot in St. Remy Cemetery.

Clara, wife of Isidore O. Feldstein, cloak and suit merchant at 614 Broadway, died early Sunday morning at the Kingston City Hospital, where she had been under treatment for jaundice. She had been ill a short time. Besides her husband she is survived by two daughters, one aged seven years and the youngest about two years. She made many friends in the neighborhood where she had resided for a number of years. The funeral was held Sunday afternoon with interment in Montrose Cemetery.

The funeral of John Fay was held this morning at 9 o'clock from his late residence, 147 Downs street, at 9:30 at St. Joseph's Church, where a high Mass of requiem was offered for the repose of his soul by the Rev. Louis Cusack as celebrant. The church was filled with his many friends and relatives. At the conclusion of the Mass, the children's choir rendered "Jesus, Jesus, Come to Me." The floral tributes were many and beautiful. The Rev. Father Burke accompanied the funeral cortege to St. Mary's Cemetery, where he gave the final absolution. Mr. Fay was a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Fay of East Kingston.

The funeral of Mrs. Mary A. McCordie, who died last Thursday at her home, 197 Pine Grove avenue, was held from her late residence Monday morning at 9 o'clock. At 9:30 a high Mass of requiem was celebrated for the repose of her soul at St. Joseph's Church where the children's choir sang the responses to the Mass and rendered "Jesus, Jesus Come to Me" while the body was being borne from the church. The high esteem in which the deceased was held was manifested by a profusion of beautiful floral offerings and spiritual bouquets in the form of Mass cards. The Rosary was recited at the hier Sunday evening by relatives and friends, led by the Rev. Edward Burke, assistant pastor of St. Joseph's Church. Interment was in the family plot in St. Mary's cemetery, where Father Burke pronounced the final absolution. The bearers were nephews of the deceased, John and William McManus, William Kerr, James McCordie, John J. McCordie and Frank McCordie.

Mrs. Amanda Frances Schatzel, wife of Police Officer Robert Francis Healey of 36 Abel street, died Monday evening at her home. She was the daughter of the late Londonia and Barbara Derrenbacher Schatzel. The deceased was a devout member of St. Peter's Church and the Christian Mothers' Society of St. Peter's. She was also a member of the senior choir of the church. A young woman of high Christian character and lovable womanly traits, she was forever bringing joy to her acquaintances. Through her kindly sympathy and ready helpfulness in times of trouble she endeared herself to her neighbors. Her affection and kindness made her home life ideal and her husband has the sympathy of the community. Besides her husband she is survived by a sister, Barbara, and two brothers, John and Leo Schatzel, all of this city. Funeral from the late residence on Friday morning at 9 o'clock and at 9:30 o'clock from St. Peter's Church, with a solemn Mass of requiem for the repose of her soul. Sorosis.

This week Sorosis met at the home of Mrs. Gibbons on Manor avenue. Arrangements were completed for the entertaining of the October open meeting of the Federation of Women's Clubs on Saturday of this week at the Y. W. C. A. Hall. The meeting will begin at 2:30 o'clock and at 3 o'clock Sorosis will present Dr. Lent, president of Elmira College (woman's college), who will be the speaker for the afternoon. Dr. Lent made many friends in Kingston when he addressed the College Women's Club recently, and all Federation women are cordially invited by Sorosis to attend the meeting on Saturday and receive the inspiration they are sure to gain from Dr. Lent's address. The club paper for the day was "On Child Welfare," and was given by Mrs. Gibbons, who having made a special study of this work several times was able to give a valuable presentation of the subject. Next Monday afternoon Sorosis will meet at 2:30 at the home of Mrs. Graham when Miss Lyon will address the club members.

Monday Club Special Meeting.

A special meeting of the Monday club was held on Monday afternoon at the home of the president, Mrs. William Lawton, on Crown street and was largely attended. This club will make a study of China this year and for the first part of the year's program will bear eight lectures on phases of the subject which will be given by Dr. Lucy Elizabeth Textor, Ph.D. of Vassar College. As formerly these lectures will be open to those who wish to become associate members of the club. Following the routine business the program committee of the club, represented by Miss Manning, reported the arrangement of the program following Dr. Textor's lectures to be club papers as follows: January 9, "The Flowery Kingdom," Miss Du Bois; January 16, "Confucianism," Mrs. Simmons; January 23, "A City Street," not yet assigned; January 30, "Chinese Women," Mrs. Higginson; February 6, "Chinese Craftsmanship," Miss Klock; February 13, "The Opium Evil," not yet assigned; February 20, "Child Life in China," Mrs. Boerc; February 27, "Chinese Portraits," Mrs. Davis; March 5, "Chinese Poetry," Mrs. Burgevin. The president, Mrs. Lawton, told of being the Monday Club guest of Sorosis last Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Lorraine Wood, when Mrs. Stuart, district chairman, gave an admirable address. The remainder of the afternoon was devoted

Married to Ten At Same Time

Chicago, Oct. 18 (AP)—Women have caused Alfred Herbert, 22, more or less concern. If the police account of his being married to ten of them at the same time is accurate.

Thus it was something of a circumstance that his arrest on a big charge yesterday was made by a woman police officer. The police woman, with drawn revolver, arrested Herbert in front of a loop office building where he was employed as private watchman.

His father, Frank Herbert, said he knew of "his son's six wives" at the police station and by comparing notes and information brought the total to ten.

One of the two "Mrs. Herberts" here said she was married to Alfred Herbert in Cincinnati in June, 1921. The other woman gave the date of her marriage as June, 1926, in Chicago.

Four Persons Die in Flames

Malden, England, Oct. 18 (AP)—Trapped in their burning villa at Waterbury Hall, Major Richard Barker-White, British war veteran, wife, four-year-old son and a woman nurse, were burned to death today.

Three servants were rescued by a ladder while the others escaped by a back staircase.

The charred bodies of the four victims were found in the ruins.

BADLY INFLAMED VARICOSE VEINS

Relieved and Reduced by Simple Home Treatment. That Must Give Relief or Money Back.

No sensible person will continue to suffer from dangerous swollen veins or bunches when the new powerful yet harmless germicide called Moore's Emerald Oil can readily be obtained at any well stocked drug store.

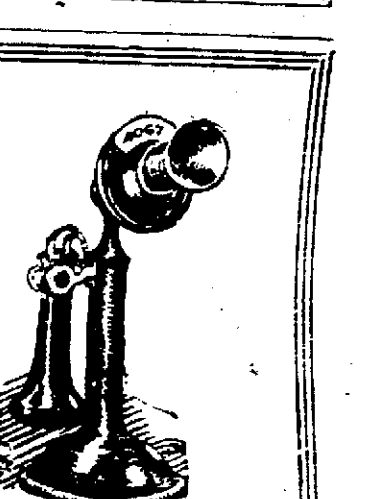

Ask for a two-ounce original bottle of Moore's Emerald Oil (full strength) and refuse substitutes. Use as directed and in a few days improvement will be noticed, then continue until the swollen veins are reduced to normal. It is guaranteed and is so powerful that even old chronic cases of running sores or ulcers are often speedily healed. Wm. F. Dedrick is selling lots of it.

Grand Jury Praises Officials

Resolutions Filed With Court Commend District Attorney Traver and Other Officials—County Jail in Good Condition.

The following resolution was filed by the grand jury with the court Monday when the grand jury handed up its report:

The members of the Ulster county grand jury in attendance at the October term of the Supreme court having completed their duties, desire at this time, through a committee appointed on resolutions, to place on record an expression of appreciation of the courteous treatment which has been extended to them by the various county officials with whom they have come in contact during their sessions.

We desire to particularly commend District Attorney Frederick G. Traver and Assistant District Attorney Cleon B. Murray for the manner in which they have presented cases before our body. During our sessions many matters have been brought to our attention and all of these matters have been investigated and disposed of. The result of our investigations will be more fully disclosed in the report which we now hand up to the court. Only through the capable and competent conduct of our body under the guidance of Mr. Traver and Mr. Murray was it possible to complete our work in so short a time. By the careful preparation of matters to be investigated by us we have been able to dispose of a great amount of business in a comparatively short time.

Through the able and careful examination of witnesses sworn before our body we have been able to investigate a very large number of cases. By this able presentation of evidence to our body Mr. Traver and his assistant have evidenced the careful investigation of criminal matters in the county and by their thorough knowledge of the law they have presented all cases in a most careful and competent manner, protecting the innocent from needless humiliation and at the same time bringing justice to the citizens of the county. In the examination of witnesses before the grand jury the district attorney and his assistant have been at all times courteous and fair for their competent, careful and courteous assistance we desire to extend our thanks. To our stenographer William F. Glass, we also extend our thanks for his services and to the court officers in attendance we also extend our thanks for their many courtesies.

The county jail has been visited and the property in the custody of Sheriff Arthur Rice has been inspected. We had every portion of the building in good order, and well kept. In the jail we find conditions especially satisfactory. The prisoners are apparently well kept and well fed. The building was found in a clean and sanitary condition and everything about the premises was found in a neat and orderly condition. The public property entrusted to Sheriff Rice and his assistants is in excellent shape and for his care and attention of the public property we heartily commend him.

OBENAU'S TO DRILL

LEGION DRUM CORPS

The American Legion Drum Corps held a meeting Monday night and practiced under the able leadership of Richard Obenaus, proprietor of a local barber shop and veteran leader of many notable bands throughout the country.

When Mr. Obenaus took the baton in hand the corps underwent a great change. For a factor to many lacking before, was instilled into the Legionnaires' instruments by his splendid work. He was all over, first showing drummers how to loosen up their wrists to make the "roll" on snare drums, and then showing the bass drummers how to use a peppy stroke. He made the symbols ring with a new and musical sound as he instructed the player how to use them.

With the baton, Mr. Obenaus displayed great skill. The stick twirled around his fingers with great speed and then over his back. Suddenly he would bring it up with a jerk and with quick jumpy strokes, get the corps in fine time.

Mr. Obenaus organized the Sons of Veterans' Band of Post No. 1, of Albany. He has been the leader of Gardland's Band of Albany, and traveled from coast to coast as head of the Five Trumpeters some years ago in vaudeville. During the war he was leader of the Sixteenth Regiment of Pennsylvania Band and also the band of the battleship Oregon. He has traveled extensively as head of musical comedies and burlesque companies.

Mr. Obenaus will take charge of the corps one night a week and stick with them until they are in good shape.

W. C. T. U. Meeting.

The regular meeting of W. C. T. U. will be held Thursday afternoon, October 20, at 2:30 o'clock in the parlors of St. James M. E. Church. Mrs. Ennist, vice president, will lead the devotional meeting.

Jim Reed in Action

Senator James A. Reed of Missouri is as fiery as ever. He is back in the fold now after the break in 1920 and his speech at Sedalia, Mo., won him the endorsement of the Missouri delegates to the Democratic convention.
